

The deficit never closes within a sequence, and no susceptibility change is resolvable → re-liquefaction is governed by seismic demand